

THIS IS NO FANTASY: Johnathon World Peace Bush 'Walking Between Two Worlds'

F frieze.com/no9-cork-street/no-fantasy-johnathon-world-peace-bush-walking-between-two-worlds

No.9 Cork Street

28 February - 15 March

THIS IS NO FANTASY presents Walking Between Two Worlds, a series of paintings by First Nations Australian artist Johnathon World Peace Bush. Painted in natural pigments in the three colours of Tiwi land (white, yellow, red), Bush's works reimagine anthropological images of Tiwi people and Colonial figureheads, often immortalised in statues, each covered in ceremonial ornaments and body paint design. Applying Western imagery alongside a Tiwi visual language that predates the Renaissance, Bush's work reflects on the complexities of history and heritage.